1 Famous navigators

Ahmad Ibn Majid lived hundreds of years ago^[1]. He was born in 1432, in what is now Oman^[2]. As a child, he was fascinated by the sea^[3]. He loved to listen to stories about sailing from his father and grandfather, who were great sailors^[4]. They also had their own ships^[5]. Ibn Majid was a very intelligent man and studied a lot^[6]. He learned languages, and learned about math, geography, and astronomy^[7]. As he got older, Ibn Majid became known as a master navigator^[8]. Over the years, Ibn Majid wrote 38 books describing what he knew^[9]. Some of his books had information about routes to different places, and some described the history of sailing^[10].

2 The life of astronauts

To be an astronaut, you need to work hard^[11]. First, you should study science at school and university^[12]. After that, you need to do a difficult, two-year astronaut course^[13]. In the training course, astronauts are taught how to fix spaceships^[14]. They are shown how to give first aid^[15]. Astronauts need to be physically strong^[16]. On the spaceship, the sleeping bags are attached to a wall so they don't float^[17]. Astronauts wash themselves with cleaning wipes because there's no shower or bath^[18]. Astronauts run in a special area of the space ship to keep fit^[19].

3 Omar Hegazy

Omar Hegazy is a very interesting man who is a world-record-holding athlete^[20]. At the age of 25, Omar's life was going well^[21]. He had a good job as a banker in the Sinai Peninsula, and he was very active^[22]. He enjoyed sports, including rock climbing, snorkeling, and keeping fit^[23]. One day, he was traveling along the road on his motorbike when he had an accident^[24]. The doctors had to remove part of his leg^[25]. Omar had to learn to use a crutch, and then a wheelchair^[26].

Omar trained hard, and in 2022, he could swim underwater for a distance of 56.48 meters^[27]! Today, Omar Hegazy is a very happy man, and gives talks to inspire others^[28].
